

THE EVENING STAR.
WASHINGTON.
THURSDAY, March 15, 1894.
CROSBY S. NOYES, Editor.
THE EVENING STAR has a regular and permanent circulation nearly double the combined circulation of the other Washington dailies. As a News and Advertising Medium it has no competitor.
In order to avoid delays, on account of personal absence, letters to THE STAR should not be addressed to any individual connected with the office, but simply to THE STAR, or to the Editorial or Business Department, according to tenor or purpose.

If the board of trade assessment bill is to be amended by the creation of a board of appeals distinct from the board of assessment, that measure must be thoroughly and radically revised and reconstructed. If a board of appeals is created it will be the real assessing power, the court of last resort, and all the anxious care which in the pending assessment bill has been bestowed upon the creation of the assessing board must be transferred to the body which is to supersede it. It will be non-sensical to create the assessing board of citizens with all the safeguards proposed by the bill and then subject their expert work to be destroyed at will by an appellate court, composed of the men who happen to fill designated District offices, who have other work to perform, who have not inspected, as the assessors have, and whose judgment from the necessities of the case will be of less weight than that of the carefully selected permanent board of assessors whose decisions they are expected to revise. The board of trade bill does not contemplate any court of appeals. If one is to be created, this bill had better be discarded and a new measure prepared. The aim of the bill under consideration is to give to the city a permanent board of assessors, consisting of three or five persons, and to secure the services of the best men for this responsible work by giving to the position dignity and honor, attaching a fair compensation to the office, and magnifying it by causing the official decisions to be final. It was thought that the judgment of three or five carefully selected citizens, exercised collectively in respect to the assessment value of a piece of property, and reconsidered and, if proper, revised at the suggestion of property owners by the same citizens acting as a board of equalization and review, could be safely relied upon. The reviewing and equalizing by the assessing board is in the nature of a rehearing to enable the assessors to correct inadvertent inequalities, and not in the nature of an appeal. Since the board assesses collectively, both originally and in review, there will be no individual humiliation or mortification in the change of assessment by the board itself and it will be practically easier for a taxpayer to secure a just correction of figures in his favor from the board of citizens who made the original assessment, than from a second and distinct board which cannot act in his favor without openly discrediting and reversing the judgment of those who have inspected his property and all the property in the District, and who have based their opinion of its comparative value upon this inspection. It is questionable whether any board of appeals is necessary or desirable. If the board of assessment is properly constituted, full opportunity to that board to correct inequalities pointed out by the taxpayer must be all that is needed. If, however, there must be a board of appeals, and must be two distinct guesses at assessment values, it is submitted that it would be wiser to have the inspector of buildings and the assistant assessor make the first and preliminary rather than the final guess at these values, and to cause the decisions of the permanent citizen assessors who inspect the property to be conclusive, making of them the board of appeals.

Political bosses are the most unpopular of men just now, and that their influence has almost departed, in New York at least, is evidenced by the conviction of Justice Kenneth F. Sutherland, who was yesterday found guilty of the offense known to the New York law as "oppression." In times past—and not so long past, either—it was regarded as legitimate to interfere, even forcibly, with the movements of political opponents, but the jury in the Sutherland case have ascertained the truth revealed when John Y. McKane was sentenced, and the result, temporarily at least, will be a reasonable increase in political honesty. Sutherland was one of McKane's tools, and when men who were interested in preserving the ballot box from contamination went to Gravesend as enemies of fraud they were deprived of their liberty and kept in jail for two days by Sutherland. Such conduct in a justice was nothing less than infamous, and it is refreshing to know that the bosses no longer control the courts. There are several other so-called politicians in New York State who should be within prison walls; let the Brooklyn reformers keep up the good work.

Compelled by the steady pressure of increasing business, the Louisville Courier-Journal has extended the facilities of its press room at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars. The new press is one of the most complete and the speediest of the triumph of mechanical ingenuity. The Courier-Journal deserves all the success which has come to it.
The supporters of the Wilson bill may have to fall back on diamonds as the only commodity toward which they can remove the duty without exciting vigorous opposition.
The fact that they can draw wages without working is calculated to stir up in Mr. Coxey's army a sentiment of envy with reference to Congressmen.
It is not fair to be too severe with Miss Pollard's early literary effusions. It is not on record that she ever pestered an editor into printing them.
Mr. Lease's experience suggests that a monopoly of home rule is undesirable.
Honolulu is at this time one of the most prolific sources of rumor, most of the affirmations being in the interest of Mrs. Dominis, ex-Queen of the Hawaiian Islands. The latest information or misinformation—there is no other word for it—is that she is from a "distinguished Anglo-American supporter of the deposed Queen," who says that the provisional government will not be tolerated one day after it is officially announced in Honolulu that the United States rejects the proposition to annex the islands. The movement by which the revolt was successfully suppressed is twofold. You see, his valet sent him out half-dressed the other day.
"Dear me!"
"Y-a-a-s. Would you believe it, the stupid fellow foghorned all about Cholly's cane and his cigarette, and it's almost certain that he'll take a frightful cold!"
Mr. Watterson Disapproves.
From the Louisville Courier-Journal.
Every honest democrat in the land must feel humiliated and sick at heart over the spectacle of a democratic Senate abandoning its principle and its honor for a bribe, without a thought of broken pledge and dishonored platform. No voice is raised in protest, and the nation is left to wonder how it can be so easily deceived. The tariff reform has been betrayed by its friends and thrown to the dogs, and the victor has been chosen from a republican caucus over the choicest bits of the spoil. Except the betrayal of a trust makes it more dishonorable, the scene might have been chosen bodily from a republican caucus of the Fifty-first Congress, auditing the claims of the rubber barons for campaign funds, and the result would be the same.

It is pleasing and proper tribute to the memory of the late George W. Childs that in more than three thousand five hundred newspapers known to have commented upon the life and works of the dead journalist there was but one sneering remark—a single discordant note. From all parts of the world came the language of grief, Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Austria, Russia, in fact all the principal nations of the earth were represented in the chorus of lamentation. But the Steubenville Gazette of Steubenville, Ohio, achieved notoriety by publishing one of the meanest and most unfair criticisms that ever appeared in the public press. It said: "There are thousands of destitute people in Philadelphia, and yet he (Childs) died with $100,000 and a reputation as a philanthropist. Didn't George W. play considerable of a confidence game in order to make a pile of money out of a poor paper?" The Gazette has good reason for being ashamed of itself, whether it is ashamed or not.
The intimation that Childs took advantage of Mrs. Lease's visit in New York to slide back into Kansas politics is, to say the least, unkind.
Senatorial sugar is remarkable for its absence of investigation sand.
SHOOTING STARS.
The Sidewalk Wizard.
When the day gets mild and mellow,
Just as people do with age;
And the sun makes red and yellow
Pictures on the azure page;
Then we say "farewell" to daytime;
Then we banish books and pens;
Then the city takes its playtime—
Then the organ-grinder comes.
How the heart goes lightly chiming
To the melody that springs
From some simple poet rhyming
Pulsing through the vibrant strings!
Children flock with faces beaming
Old age, too, the music hums—
All is youth in fact, or seeming,
When the organ grinder comes.
And the dancers, lithe and merry,
Trooping, haste like hordes of elves,
Weaving webs that blend and vary,
Known to none except themselves.
'Tis a fairyland in true life.
Where no grief the spirit numbs,
And we find a sparkling new life
When the organ grinder comes.

His Fortuna Hope.
"Slippery is having his memory trained."
"It's a good scheme; but I don't believe there is any use of his trying to improve."
"He says he is getting along first rate. It's the chain of ideas system."
"Well, if he'll lead his mind up to $20 that he borrowed last summer, I'd be willing to pay half his tuition."
A Shrewd Miss.
"I don't understand what makes Miss Daydrell so popular with the young men," remarked one girl. "I'm sure she isn't very pretty. They say it's her conversation."
"Yes. That's it. You know, she reads the base ball news every day."
The Dramatist.
One by one, the old actors vanish—
Time in his unheeding step,
"Rit" now proceeds to banish
From the telegraph report.
Uncle Eben's Opinion.
"Hit stan'ter reason," remarked Uncle Eben, "dat folks is gwinner fob de ha'd times mah abone wot tell him it is comin' from 'a distinguished Anglo-American supporter of the deposed Queen,' who says that the provisional government will not be tolerated one day after it is officially announced in Honolulu that the United States rejects the proposition to annex the islands.
